100 Dollars Reward.

I WILL give the above reward to any person who will return to my possession, negro LAWRENCE, who assumes the sirname of FENWICK. This fellow left my farm, on the Wicomico river, in Charles county, Md. on the 6th July, in consequence of his own outrageous conduct towards my overseer. He is a negro of a fine erect figure, good features, a smooth black skin, rather above the middle stature, of a youthful appearance for one of thirty years of age, and of great plausibility and natural smartness. His ears grow remarkably close to his head, and on the inside of his lower lip he has a white mark or spot. I purchased him 4 years ago of the estate of Mrs. P. H. Courts, of this county. I am led (by circumstances which have come to my knowledge since he absconded,) to believe that he will endeavor to make his way to King George county, Va. ; should he not take this route, he will probably be met with in the District of Columbia, or in the upper counties of this state, on his way to Pennsylvania. I apprehend he will change his name, and if committed to jail, refuse to state to whom he belongs, as the misconduct which preceded his departure, & his absconding, have all appeared since to have been premeditated. He took all his clothes with him, of which he had a large number ; among them—a new bear-skin over-coat, a long close-bodied blue coat, a pair of striped jean pantaloons, one or more white waistcoats, besides many articles of coarse cloathing ; these, however, he will probably exchange, or sell them for cash to defray his travelling expenses.

I will give the above reward to any person who will bring him home to me, or FIFTY DOLLARS if confined in jail, and notice given me, so that I recover him.—Should he be taken out of the state, I will also pay all reasonable costs and charges which may attend the bringing him home.

I will give the above reward for apprehending and securing said fellow so that I get him again, and reasonable charges if brought home.

BELIEVING as I do, that PROVIDENCE, at Fairfax Court-House, would be a suitable situation for mechanics of the above description. I offer to such, lots in that village for sale, on ground rent for ever—will build and furnish suitable houses and rent to them, or furnish brick to them to build with ; and invite any who feel disposed to settle there, for the purpose of carrying on their respective trades to advantage, to come and view the situation. It is a very public place, the centre of the county, where the superior and county courts are held. The Little River Turnpike Road passes through this little town from Alexandria westward, and where all th public meetings for the county, &c. are held ; and where trades of the aforesaid description being carried on, would meet with great encouragement, and be a public convenience to the country around. No situation can be more healthy—good water, and fire wood cheap. Mechanics of the above description must generally depend on the country people, farmers, &c. to be their customers. Here they would be in a convenient situation for all the purposes. I invite a call, and view for themselves. I would also furnish lots adjacent, from one to five acres each, for cultivation, pasture, &c. on moderate terms ; all of which can be shown, and terms made known, on application to RICH'D. THE subscriber has now for sale a number of the most valuable tracts, in both of those rich and improving bodies of lands, and can supply applicants with any number they may wish, and in any part of either territory. Every person who visits the Western Country, particularly those who intend setting there, should take with them a few quarter sections of those lands; every man who has a young and growing family, and can spare a few hundred dollars, should not miss the present opportunity of getting some of those lands ; as it will insure to his children a greater certainty than any other investment he can possibly make for their benefit.—From the immense emigration to both Illinois and Missouri, particularly to the military lands, it is certain there must be a great rise in the price very soon, and those who miss the present opportunity, will never again have a chance to do so well. STRICTURES

On the Character of Job, particularly on HIS PATIENCE, which was subjected to a severe trial.

Job, on the dung-hill, a sad spectacle of human woe; the prophets and apostles exposed to contempt and sufferings: Jesus bleeding on the cross—yet blessing God,—yet steady in his service,—yet in hope, enduring the cross, and despising the shame, shone with a splendour which far eclipsed the splendour of happier days.

Would you witness true dignity, go to the house of mourning: Behold that spectacle, a saint in affliction: when Job was prosperous, satan vilified his character, and spake contemptuously of religion; but stripped of all—in the dust—wounded to the soul,—yet calm—yet submissive; satan defeated in his accursed plan, fled abashed! It is because God loves christians that he visits them with affliction; affliction brings into exercise graces which it could not otherways be known that they possessed: it kindles a flame which enlightens a benighted world.

A day of trial has rendered Job more known; more useful; more illustrious, than days, or weeks, or months, or years of prosperity could have done. His possessions and honors would long before now have passed by unnoticed. What is it to us that folds had once been crouded with flocks, or his granaries filled with corn?—But Job, in adversity, yet submissive; comforts them who are in adversity, and teaches them submission: considering the pains and sufferings of this distinguished man, our pains abate; and our sufferings are almost forgotten.

At the present moment, among ourselves, much suffering is sustained by individuals and by society, from losses and sickness and mortality: The church also suffers in the loss of a great man, whose superior talents are universally acknowledged—The Reverend Dr. James Inglis, of Baltimore. A tribute to his memory cannot be denied. Cut off in his forty-fifth year, in the midst of his days, and of his usefulness! Ah! how mysterious are the ways of Providence! on some of the preceding days he was uncommonly cheerful; but a moment, and he was no more!

Enoch was not found for God had taken him: Elijah was wafted in a whirlwind to Heaven: To the righteous, a sudden death is a translation. Such thy death O my Brother: no lingering sickness; no torturing pain: it was the day of rest: it was the hour of worship; when thou receivedst a summons, to that world, where the people of God enter on a rest which can never be interrupted; engage in worship to which sin and infirmity are no more attached.

Shall recollection dwell on thine enlightened mind, and eloquent tongue; on thy firm attachment to the religious system which thou believedst to be true, yet charity to those whose systems differed from thine own; on a dignity peculiar to thyself which commanded respect, and zeal which was tempered with prudence?—rather let the sudden call, which deprived the world of such talents, be kept in mind, to teach each, the uncertainty of life, that he may act every day as if that day were his last. The human character in the best is imperfect, see that the recording page be wet with the penitential tear; and covered with the blood of sprinkling.

This event, so distressing, had certainly been anticipated; but whence these anticipations? I know not, unless from him, with whom are the destinies of all, a warning to prepare:—the warning was heard, and was improved. To the enquiry of a friend parting from him, when shall I see you again? Never, was the answer. Never, I hope to see you in your new house, now nearly finished. Yes—in a narrow house, the house appointed for all living. He lately took leave of a brother, declaring, I shall not live six months: Being in a melancholy mood, they were considered as words of course and soon forgotten; but have since been recollected as full of meaning. Under these impressions he prepared for the awful event: never before were his public services more impressive, he spake as a mortal addressing his fellow mortals on a subject of eternal moment, and in words warm from the heart, which did not miss their way to the hearts of others.

See the interesting group around the opening grave. The dejected countenance! the enquiring look! the involuntary burst of tears from those whose feet he had been instrumental in turning from the path of sin, announce that his memory is embalmed in many hearts.

LATE DELIBERATIONS OF THE CABINET.

A variety of conjectures are now afloat, as to the tenor of the late despatches transmitted by our Government, in answer to the receipt of our Minister's recent communication from Madrid. We understand, however, that no difficulties occurred in the deliberations of the Cabinet as to the course which remained to be pursued: that it was the opinion of the executive not to sanction any evasion or fraud that may be attempted to be imposed under the provisions of this Treaty by certain grantees, who clandestinely oppose strong impediments to its ratification: and who, it is said, have not scrupled to employ the most fraudulent means within their power, by the fabrication of dates, and instruments to get their claims embraced within the period limited. This piece of chicanery, it is understood, to be the determination of government to resist; that positive instructions on this head have been transmitted to our Minister at Madrid; and though the whole amount of these claims is reported not to exceed 200,000 dolls. and which might be bought up for a much less sum—a mere fraction, nationally speaking; yet such is the straightforward policy of our executive, and the integrity of its intentions, that even this paltry sum will not be granted to bribe the interests or good will of the courtiers or favorites of Ferdinand.

That this is not a Machiavalian course is obvious, when serious impediments could be so easily removed by the application of a little money; but then it comports more with the dignity and interest of a nation, that disdains to stoop to the practice of political quackery by administering pecuniary gratification, at the expense of integrity and fair dealing. By the spirit of the treaty, and its faithful execution on our part, we are willing to stand or fall. We now despair of its ratification within the time limited by its provisions; and the fulfilment of this condition is indispensible to make it binding on both parties.

We think it highly probable that the recent instructions of our executive, do not essentially differ from what has been heretofore transmitted, and it is not improbable that Spain may propose some new arrangement in order to get rid of the importunities of her disappointed grantees; but what the fate of such a proposition may be, under the present disturbed state of the negotiation is impossible to foretell.

[Washington City Gazette.

From the Norfolk Herald, August 25.

OF THE SPANISH TREATY.

We are indebted to a gentleman of this town for the following interesting extract of a letter from his correspondent at Gibraltar, dated

"Gibraltar, July 8, 1819

"The return of the Hornet to the United States, without the Treaty, after so long a stay, will, no doubt, set you all on calculations about war or peace. I wish it was in my power to set you right on either side of the question. But the political conduct of Spain is so variable and equivocal, that any certain conclusions are not to be made from her acts. It is very manifest that she does not mean to ratify the treaty until the expiration of the time allowed her, (26th Aug.) and it were to be wished that any certainty existed that it would be ratified at that time.

It is not believed, by the best informed, that Mr Forsyth thinks the treaty will be ratified. Commodore Stewart and the hon. Jonathan Russell, who I know are in correspondence with him (and who are both here now) express that opinion, and have good reason for believing that Mr. Forsyth has written the commodore to put himself in the most imposing attitude with his squadron to appear off Cadiz, or to enter the harbor pending the present negociations, and that he will sail with all his force for that quarter in a few days for that object.

"It is still said that the banishment of the Marquis Yrujo (to a miserable village in Old Castile) was on account of his penchant for the treaty—If this be true, considering the delay that has taken place in the ratification of the treaty, and the opinion of the United States, as far as we can ascertain it, there can be no doubt of the determination of Spain to reject that treaty, if she can find any countenance in it, or any support in the consequence it will bring upon her.

"You may be as well able as we are to guess at the part England is playing in this business.

"The grand expedition at Cadiz has lately made great progress, but it seems that the troops positively refuse to embark. Something of an important nature may come to light soon, and things assume a new character.

BOARD OF HEALTH.

The cases of fever at the remote part of Fell's Point, adverted to in our last report, we are sorry to say, have considerably increased in number, and are very decisively characterized with the symptoms of yellow fever. They amount in number to about fifty cases.

They are still confined within very narrow limits, and are chiefly traced to the same source, but exhibit indications of slowly extending. The deaths have hitherto been very few; but most of the cases have occurred within a few days—their results are not yet ascertained, but are estimated at the proportion of one fifth.

The Board are disposed to hope the disease may not spread, but have thought it their duty to give this early notice of its unfavorable aspect, and earnestly to advise the citizens of that district to move away as speedy as possible.

By order of the Board of Health,
P. REIGART, Clk.

The executive of this state has by proclamation subjected all vessels, coming from the island of Cuba, Charleston or Baltimore to quarantine; in consequence of a malignant and infectious malady which is said to exist in those places. The power of enforcing quarantine laws rests with the executive in Virginia. In N. York, Philadelphia, and we presume, in most of the large cities of the United States, it is a municipal power belonging to the police of each city.

Savannah, August 19.

On Thursday evening last, 12th instant, Mr. Charles Frazier, was drowned in Lazaretto creek. In what manner has not yet been ascertained to the entire satisfaction of the gentlemen on board. He went on deck to sleep with a person who was an assistant of his; and in somewhat short of an hour, was heard in the water. Although every exertion (by the gentlemen, who at the time were below) was immediately rendered, they were not able to save him from a watery grave.

COMMUNICATED

For the Federal Republican and Baltimore Telegraph.

Extract of a letter from England received by the Ann Maria, arrived at New York, 25th inst. dated Sheffield, 10th July, 1819.

"From other quarters, as well as from you we hear of the distresses in America, but in old England we feel great distresses. The whole commercial body seems to be dislocated. In the neighborhood of Manchester, the people are inclined to be riotous. Indeed they are almost famished—and the manufacturers nearly ruined. In Sheffield and its neighborhood it is said they are better than in any other manufacturing district, and yet, there the people in general are distrest; multitudes are unemployed, and those who are employed can scarce earn enough to support their families."

It is no alleviation to suffering to see others in equal distress, yet from the above extract we ought to learn to value the blessings we do enjoy, we cannot say that our population is "famishing for want of bread," and we have the greatest national blessing, independence, and peace at home; we have also an inexhaustible field for industry in the uncultivated but rich and luxurious wilds of the western States; which, when commerce declines, and mechanics overstock our cities, will furnish every man from their fertile soil, with the necessaries of life, and he who learns to be content with them, escapes the miseries attendant on the supposed pleasures of the luxuries of life. A desire to retain the latter at any rate, is one of the greatest evils of the present day, and by causing needless expenditure, too frequently brings the unhappy victim of this syren to desperation, bankruptcy and total ruin: and principally to this can be traced the present effects of speculation in the banking and commercial departments. The work of reformation must prevail before the return of better times; let us then begin; let every citizen reform one, and we shall soon become virtuous and happy; which is the wish of a REFORMER.

LATEST FROM THE HAVANA.

By the schooner Comet, we received the Havana papers to the 11th inst. inclusive, and the following Letter from our correspondent:—

"Havana, August 11.

"By this conveyance you will receive a regular file of our Diario from the 30th ult. up to the present date, likewise a Marine Memoranda and Price Current.

"During the past week, there has been considerable inquiry for fresh Flour, and purchases made at the improved price of 22 dollars for Baltimore Howard-street, and Philadelphia brands—fresh New-Orleans, 18. The demand for Rice has abated somewhat, although the price holds up pretty well—best quality Carolina would command 8½ dollars, perhaps 9, for a small cargo.

"Our Produce, notwithstanding the depression of foreign Markets, keeps high and in all probability will maintain present quotations until our new Crops come in.

"Our last letters from St. Jago were silent in regard to the late disturbances in that place, nor have I heard any thing further on that subject.

"During the last six weeks upwards of 1000 Negroes have arrived at Matanzas, and brought to this place in the Steamboat, in consequence of this large importation thrown in all at once; purchases have been effected at long credits at from 450 to 500 dolls. per head for prime Slaves—very young ones, 250 to 350 dols.

"The health of our city has improved very much—the weather is pleasant, and the atmosphere purified by daily showers—but few cases of the fever have occurred latterly.

"Nothing important has transpired by the Patriota, from Puerto Bello—the Royalists maintain themselves there without molestation from General M'Gregor.

"Last sales of Rice, 16½ rs. the arrobe."

If there is any truth in the following journal, a strange sort of morals prevail at N. Orleans. A society that can tolerate the profanation of the Lord's day in the manner here described, are fit subjects for bedlam. Let us hope the account is exaggerated; and yet, if it was not true, why should the editor of the New-Orleans chronicle lend his paper to disgrace his own city.

[N. York Evening Post.

From the N. Orleans Chronicle, July 20.

Mr. Lorrain—I am in the habit of keeping a journal. Since I arrived at New-Orleans, it has, for the most part, been very tame. But the entry of the last sabbath is somewhat amusing, and I have copied it for you. If you think it worthy your columns, you are at liberty to insert it.

Sunday, 18th July, 1819.

"O Pater, O hominum Divumque æterna Potestas Cernis ut insultent Rutuli?"

Vir. Æn. Lib. X.

10 o'clock, A. M.—No church to day. Episcopal too old; presbyterian too new; the cathedral is too holy a place for such a sinner as me to visit.

11 o'clock.—Walked into the upper Fauxbourg; fine music, flutes, fiddles and songs in abundance. Ladies of color promenading; beautiful dresses; interesting impudence.

12 o'clock.—Returned to the city.—French stores generally open; many Americans "follow suit;" especially some from the "land of steady habits." Business brisk near the Levee; 2 negroes fighting, and 200 looking on.

5 o'clock.—After dinner walked out; saw 6 circus riders, elegantly mounted, displaying in the streets, every few steps one of them bellows like a Stentor, "By permission of the Mayor!"

6 o'clock.—A great flock of people going to see the balloon rise; interesting group; men with their wives; gentlemen who never had any; negroes of all shades and sizes; dandies, sailors, boatmen, ladies, "black spirits and white, blue spirits and grey," &c.

7 o'clock.—Balloon ascends, a shout of triumph, sublime scene! spirits of Montgolfier, Garnerin and Miss Sadler, save the poor little lamb!!! This must be an unusually solemn sabbath, for half the people in New Orleans have their eyes to heaven.

8 o'clock.—Splendid fire-works by permisson of the Mayor; many children present for improvement's sake; also a vast number of the most respectable men in the city. Thought of Gen. Washington's remark, that he woud'nt trust a man the length of his nose who would set an example of Sabbath breaking.

9 o'clock:—Went home via the market; heard a band of music that is never still; "fine refreshments" in that neighborhood; also, "natural curiosities;" also, "choice rooms" for "choice sets," where gambling is done on a genteel and honorable scale.

Remarks.—New-Orleans must have an excellent mayor; colored "ladies" must be most rigidly virtuous; the citizens must excel in the science of æronautics, pirotechny, music and mercantile business must flourish, children must be accustomed to the best examples, and the people must be uncommonly moral.

"Ætnas parentum, pejor avis, tulit
Nos nequiores, mox daturos
Progeniem vitiosorem."

Horace. Lib. 3, Carm. 6.

One by his extravagances, having run himself over head and ears in debt, and seeming very unconcerned about it, his friend told him that he wondered how he could sleep quietly, whilst he was so much in debt: "For myself" said the other, "I sleep very well—but I am astonished that my creditors can."

LOTTERY TICKETS.

In the early part of the reign of King George the II. the footman of a lady of quality, under the absurd infatuation of a dream, disposed of the savings of the last 20 years of his life, in two tickets, which proving blanks, after a few melancholy days, he put an end to his life. In his box was found the following plan of the manner in which he would spend the five thousand pound prize, which his mistress preserved as a curiosity.

"As soon as I have received the money, I'll marry Grace Towers, but as she has been cross and coy, I'll use her as a servant.

"Every morning she shall get me a mug of strong beer, with a toast, nutmeg, and sugar in it; then I will sleep till ten, after which I will have a large sack posset.

My dinner shall be on the table by one, and never without a good pudding: I'll have a stock of wine and brandy laid in; about five in the afternoon I'll have tarts and jellies, and a gallon bowl of punch; at ten a hot supper of two dishes; if I'm in good humor, and Grace behaves herself, she shall sit down with me; to bed about twelve.

FROM LONDON PAPERS.

London, July 10.

Don Bernardino Rivadavia, who has resided some time at Paris, as Deputy from the Government of Buenos Ayres, is arrived in London. He is appointed by his Government to reside in this country; and Don Valentin Gomez, who lately arrived from Buenos Ayres, has succeeded him at Paris.

A SPECIMEN OF THE TIMES.

Fifty-two clothiers have, during the last 20 years, carried on business at a borough town in Wiltshire, and at their various manufactories afforded employment to a numerous population; but now, the inhabitants of the place are sunk into pauperism and wretchedness, for of their 52 employers, 9 are dead, 17 have failed, 24 have declined, and only 2 remain in business. Nor is this a singular case, for there are within 8 miles of the above place, 4 other manufacturing towns, in each of which the depression of trade has been equally severe.

London, July 7.

The last letters from Rio Janeiro communicate an event that strongly indicates the character of Artigas, the enterprising chief who has been so long formidable to the Independence of Buenos Ayres. The Spanish Government, it appears, has not lost sight of the obvious means arising from the discord previously existing among the Patriots, to sow further dissensions among them. The Count de Casa Florez, their Ambassador at Rio Janeiro, had received instructions to gain Artigas if possible over to the royal cause; a letter to that chief was, therefore, drawn up, containing the most tempting offers, and a Spanish officer undertook the dangerous exploit of delivering it. He succeeded, after many difficulties, in presenting it himself to the hands of Artigas, who perused this document with the utmost coolness, but made no other answer than by turning round, and instantly ordering the officer who brought it to be shot.

ANOTHER FIRE AT ST. JOHN'S, NEWFOUNDLAND.

A gentleman, passenger in the schooner William, capt. Hallet, who arrived here this morning in 8 days from Halifax, states that a vessel from St. John's, Newfoundland, had arrived at Halifax the day before he sailed, bringing the intelligence of that ill-fated place having again suffered from another dreadful conflagration, which nearly destroyed the whole town; and it is supposed, left destitute of shelter, from 12 to 1500 of its inhabitants.

About 120 houses, stores, &c. were consumed. Almost all Water-street, which is the principal street.—The loss of property is estimated at one hundred and fifty thousand pounds sterling.

The following are among the principal sufferers:—J. Dunscomb & Co. Cunningham & Bell, Atwood and Haines, T. Kough Meaghar, Sons & Co. T. Williams & Son W. Cullen & Co. and Dr. Duggan.

The fire originated from a large pile of ashes being heaped up against a wooden building.

CORONER'S REPORT.

On Thursday last, the coroner, accord ing to custom, was called to view the body of Harvey Jessup, an unfortunate debtor, confined on the limits of the debtors' gaol. The jurors, after a studied investigation, reported his death to have been occasioned by the visitation of God, under a deep depression of mind and body, bro't on by cruelty of Abel Clapp, on whose account the poor unfortunate deceased had been confined, since the 22d day of October last, for the paltry sum of 47 dollars 32 cents.

Humanity shudders at the facts which came out in the investigation, one of which it may not be amiss to mention, viz. : the sheriff, a day or two previous to the death of the deceased, applied to his creditor for permission to remove him to the hospital at Bellevue ; but, shocking to relate, no permission could be obtained ! JOHN HOPKINS

Hill and Dale, April 20.

Gunston for Sale.

THIS elegant estate is situated on the Potomac, 16 miles below Alexandria—it is bounded on three sides by the Potomac and Pohick creek, and contains nearly 3,000 acres of land, level and fertile, to which are attached six shad and herring fisheries, two of which command the river channel. This land will be laid off in four tracts, so as to have one or more fisheries to each; these tracts will be again divided if requisite. This estate is level and beautifully situated, very fertile, and remarkably healthy. Plaister acts with an effect equal to that of any part of Virginia or Pennsylvania.—I have used 500 bushels in twelve months, and such is its beneficial operation, that were I to keep this land I should considerably increase the quantity. A manufacturing mill is distant about two miles, on a stream navigable for vessels carrying 1200 bushels of wheat, where the Baltimore and Dist. of Columbia prices are given for grain: being bounded on 3 sides by water, a small extent only of fence is necessary to inclose the whole: it would be admirably adapted to grazing. The improvements are a large and very substantial brick mansion, 40 by 70 feet, with every necessary out-house, three commodious barns, houses for Negroes, and fish houses at each of the fisheries. 120,000 bricks and 1000 bushels of lime are just burnt on the premises. There is a considerable extent of live fence, both useful and ornamental, two orchards of well selected apples and peach, besides an abundance of other choice fruit. More than 150 acres are in clover, 200 in corn, and land is in preparation for sowing 250 bushels of small grain. Any quantity of hay can be cut from the low grounds, some of which (and all might,) have been reclaimed at a trifling expense. The river and creeks, abound with wild fowl, particularly canvass backs, the woods with deer and a variety of other game. Mules, cattle, highly improved sheep, farming utensels and household furniture can be had. The terms of sale will be accommodating. Property in any of the cities, negroes, bank stock, western lands, or lands near the Ridge, will be taken in payment.—Letters must be addressed to me at Pohick Church, Fairfax county, Virginia.

S. Drew, Merchant Tailor,

Removed from Fairfax-street to the corner of King and Columbus streets, and his prices falling

RESPECTFULLY acquaints his customers and the citizens in general that he has removed as above, where he will study to give satisfaction. He has by him a small but well assorted stock of goods, which will be found on inspection to be of the best quality, the whole of which he wishes to sell low for cash, and as further inducements to purchasers he offers to cut out any goods, bought of him to any size or pattern gratis.

S. Drew aware, of the advantage a ready money business has over one where long credit is given, thinks that a distinction ought to be made in the prices in each case: and as the price of provisions are low at present, he is glad to be able to announce to those customers who will feel disposed to pay him ready money for his work, that he will reduce the price of making to them according to the present journeymen's wages; and to prevent any supposed imposition on the one hand or disatisfaction on the other he is willing to be goverued by the printed regulations of prices by which the journeymen are paid in Alexandria.

N. B. Bread, flour, beef, groceries, liquors or any thing valuable taken in exchange for clothes.

S. Drew has this day opened a tavern in the same house, where he has laid in a a supply of Philadelphia and the district porter and ale, together with liquors of the best quality, and he feels confident that he shall be able to give satisfaction to all who will please to favor him with a call.—He is fitting up his house for the accommodation of boarders, travellers, &c. and from its central situation, good beds and stabling, together with other requisites, he presumes that it will be found a convenient establishment. may 25

PROSPECTUS

Of a new periodical work to be published in the city of Washington, entitled the

Washington Theological REPERTORY.

EDITORS { Rev. Wm Hawley, Washington
Rev. Wm. H. Wilmer, Alexandria,
Rev. Oliver Norris, Alexandria,
Rev. Reuel Keith, Georgetown.

Assisted by several other literary gentlemen of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

IF any apology were necessary for this undertaking, it may be found in the fact that there is no publication on a similar plan, in all that section of our country lying south of New-York, and but one in the whole of the United States. It has been matter of equal surprize and regret, that the Episcopal Church should be so far behind other Christian denominations, in similar efforts to disseminate the principles of religion and piety. At a period like the present, when the Lord is preparing his way on earth, by the most remarkable efforts of human agency, and the most wonderful operations of his providence and grace—when we perceive in every part of Christendom, a praise-worthy emulation to share in the glorious work of filling the earth with the knowledge of the only true God, and his Son Jesus Christ; it would seem criminal for any to withhold their exertions, however feeble, in the great enterprize of human happiness and salvation. The editors have, therefore, felt it their duty to make this humble effort to supply this acknowledged deficiency on the part of the church in this section of the country, and to bear their share in the common exertions of Christians to promote the Redeemer's Kingdom. And having obtained the services of a gentleman, in whose talents and principles they have confidence, whose time will be wholly devoted to the superintendence of the work, they feel encouraged to solicit the patronage of the public.

The publecation will be conducted under the immediate inspection and control of the above named editors, who will form a committee to review every article intended for publication. The principles upon which it will be conducted are those of the bible, as illustrated in the articles, Liturgy and Homilies of the Protestant Episcopal Church. As members of this church the editors will feel bound to support the Apostolical character of her institutions, the pious tendency of her rites and ceremonies, and the evangelical nature of her doctrines. But in these, and all other discussions, they hope never to loose sight of that great law of charity which teaches us to "preserve the unity of the spirit in the bond of peace."

Acting upon those catholic principles, so long and so successively pursued by "The Christian Observer," their chief object will be to inculcate sound theological knowledge, and to delineate and recommend pure and vital religion. They trust therefore, that while the members of every Christian denomination may find something edifying and instructive, none will discover any just cause for offence in the pages of this work. General subjects of biblical criticism, practical illustrations of scriptural truth, the biography of illustrious persons, evidences of the truth of revelation, essays on the history and polity of the church, reviews of interesting publications, religious, literary and philosophical intelligence—in short, whatever is connected with the promotion of religion, humanity and literature, will find a place in this repository.

The testimony of experience supersedes the necessity of dwelling on the advantages of a periodical publication on the plan proposed. Its obvious tendency will be to render the various departments of religious knowledge more easy and accessible, and give a more ready currency and wider circulation, to those great truths which involve the present welfare and future destiny of man.

It will tend powerfully to stimulate the exertions of the editors, and console them under the difficulties attendant on the prosecution of this work, amidst many other avocations, should it prove the means under the blessing of God, of enriching any of its readers with the saving knowledge of Christ, and prepare them for a participation in the felicity and glory of his heavenly kingdom. With this hope they commit it into his hands, and confidently solicit their brethren of the clergy and laity to assist them in carrying into effect the objects of the undertaking.

TERMS OF THE WORK.

A volume of the Repertory shall consist of twelve numbers, of which one shall be published on the first day of every month, containing thirty-two large octavo pages, stitched in blue, and attended with a table of contents.

The paper used in the work shall be good, and the typography executed with the greatest care.

The price of a volume is two dollars, payable in advance; to such as omit the advance, two dollars and fifty cents

It is designed to enlarge the size of the work, without increasing the price, as soon as one thousand subscribers shall be obtained.

Communications and remittances may be directed to any of the editors, post paid

Any person becoming responsible for five subscribers, shall receive a sixth copy gratis.

The first number may be expected in the month of July. June 26
